Create your own games and then share them with the world through the Roblox website. When you join Roblox, you create your own game using the editor. In the editor, you can place objects in the game and connect those objects using lines. You can also place a GUI on the screen that includes a chat box, a meter, and buttons. You can specify the buttons' functions in the programming portion of the editor. For example, you can design a game with a puzzle or action-adventure theme. You can make the game so that players can talk in the chat box or play a sound clip when they click a button.

Roblox Price: Roblox has three types of virtual currency (e.g., "Robux") in its virtual economy. The currency system uses two currencies: Robux, the official currency, and the more rare Gems that can be used to purchase various in-game items. The number of Robux per Gem are determined by how valuable an item is. For example, a generic item may cost 250 Robux, and a rare item may cost 250,000 Robux. Robux and Gems can be purchased with real money at Roblox marketplace.
