madcap flight back from the World Cup, I watched the emotionless launch of a space shuttle from the Mojave desert. I was glad to be away from the South Africa media who have been demanding a full account of the events at the World Cup. It is not easy to explain the ups and downs of the two opening matches. For those who have not been there, I'd highly recommend attending matches in South Africa. It is an exciting and emotional experience which gives little scope for analysis. The World Cup is a spectacular event, a great chance to watch football on the world's biggest stage. But after the first two matches I was wondering whether any of the other games would come close to them. While South Africa was a disappointment, I was delighted to see a few good performances from England, Chile and Slovenia. But the standard was low in all the games. Poor refereeing was one 2d92ce491b
