(AP) — A western New Mexico family's Thursday hunting trip into the mountains ended with a 7-year-old girl, a toddler and a woman who died in a crash that killed the father, officials said. Toxicology tests are being conducted to determine if alcohol played a part in the fatal accident and a passenger was taken to a hospital with unspecified injuries. The Justice Department has opened a criminal investigation into the matter and New Mexico State Police are assisting, NMSP spokeswoman Brooke Dillon said. "We want to hear from people who may have seen what went on," she said. The two adults and the two children were killed when the pickup they were driving plunged off a mountain road on Friday. Lt. Joe Hartley of the San Juan County Sheriff's Office said the
