The free version of HZ Weapons allows you to unlock all 3 of their character skins and add them to your list of unlocked characters. In addition to the standard cosmetic unlock, HZ also offers a few HZ exclusive Skins you can get which can only be unlocked through special promotional codes. Many of these skins and character skins were detailed in a previous article regarding the game and are listed in order from top left to right, starting in the upper left-hand corner. Below you will find which of the promotional Skins I unlocked for all of my listed characters. [HZ] mini goth sprite [HZ] medu goth sprite [HZ] Brinzee sprite [HZ] souldragit ace sprite [HZ] darkie sprite [HZ] flying goth sprite [HZ] vox sprite [HZ] Skins [HZ] previous skin [HZ] image me [HZ] girly skin [HZ] demon skin [HZ] phantasm skin [HZ] princess skin [HZ] cyborg skin [HZ] medu nigga sprite [HZ] phish skin [HZ] darkie nigga sprite [HZ] skeleton sprite [HZ] nitehawk sprite [HZ] spook sprite [HZ] vampire sprite [HZ] blood sprite [HZ] auto sprite [HZ] soulcatcher sprite [HZ] german sprite [HZ] zombie sprite [HZ] Hunter sprite [HZ] nathan sprite [HZ] Jan texter sprite [HZ] dandy sprite [HZ] auto goth sprite [HZ] ree sprite [HZ] Zentris sprite [HZ] member and more! If you like the skins in the game and want to know where to get them all you check out the article here. If you were looking for a skin but are having issues trying to get it to unlock, check out the instructions here and make sure to enable the "Skip Invalid Skins" option. If you are having problems getting the HZ exclusive character skins to unlock I would try these instructions: If you are trying to unlock more than 4 character skins by using an HZ promotional code.

It has a half-life of 1.85 years and decays by electron capture (76.9% of the time) and alpha decay (21.1% of the time) to radon-224 (a stable isotope). It can decay further to protactinium-228 (stable), or to neptunium-224 (stable). Radium-226 was first found by Alfred Philipp-Berthold in 1909 when he was researching a way to distinguish the uranium ores from potash ores that he was working with at the time. He found that the mineral pitchblende contains more radium than thorium. Radium is more abundant on earth than uranium, so the light alpha emission of thorium cannot be used as a guide for the presence of uranium in ore bodies. He found that the pitchblende contained much more radium than he had expected, suggesting the presence of an unknown radium-containing substance. Philipp-Berthold named the unknown element radium, and theorized that it was a group of elements that collectively he called "raio-alkalies". In 1909 he wrote: "I found in the localities La Brume, Châtel-St-Denis and Grenoble, radium in amounts which make it probable that this element is common to the whole universe." His first step to discovering the identity of the elements in the raio-alkalies was to separate them from thorium by distillation. The elements were identified in the years following by chemists such as E. O. Reber, E. C. Taylor and V. S. Ramachandran. In 1898, the element was finally named for the Greek god of the sun, but it was not until 1917 that it was discovered that radium is the alpha emitters of a new radioactive element found on uranium ores. Production Radium-226 is produced by uranium(n,p) radium-226 3e33713323
