Super Simple RSS is a RSS generation tool. As you might guess - it is simple to use. And as you might understand - it is simple by nature, so it does not support all RSS features. Super Simple RSS can also generate Twitter @replies and the @replies were once included with Blogger - but unfortunately they have been removed from Blogger - since Twitter changes their RSS specification. Super Simple RSS uses a standard template and fills it with data from any type of RSS file. Be sure you have a valid RSS File. After this - you just have to press the appropriate buttons: To have Super Simple RSS generate RSS from any Feed URL. To have Super Simple RSS generate Twitter @replies (with one exception) Once you have the generated RSS File - you can simply copy it to your blog (if you don't have a Blogger blog) or add it manually as you normally do. Warning! If Super Simple RSS didn't add the @replies you might end up with duplicates. They are also a bit difficult to remove. The best way to remove them from the generated RSS is to use a program that knows how to remove them from the generated RSS. Enjoy!
